APPLICATION FOR ACCOMMODATION PROVIDERS TO JOIN THE TOFTigers CAMPAIGN

TOFTigers (Travel Operators for Tigers) is a campaign aimed at every international, national or regional tour operator, travel agent, destination management company, local accommodation and service provider taking visitors into the Indian Subcontinent's wildlife and wilderness destinations.

The campaign's aims are three fold:

To advocate and support better tourism practices in wilderness areas, with specific best practice guidelines for tour operators, destination management companies, agents, services, and visitors and Eco-certification for accommodation providers.

To help empower local communities to become involved in wildlife tourism projects that can initiate low impact and sustainable development which helps conserve the parks and benefits the communities through employment and business opportunities.

To catalyse initiatives through the lodge community that enhance wildlife conservation and community support, including waste and water management, trade cooperatives, local employment, fair wages and local enterprises and services.

These objectives are best achieved by collective action and the partnership of all those in the provision of tourism in wildlife areas of India.

* THE TOFTigers PUG Eco Audit

The TOFTigers PUG Eco Audit is mandatory for all lodge members, and active membership cannot be given until the initial self assessment has been completed and returned to TOFTigers. The cost of this audit is borne by you (see correspondence for exact costs) and involves an initial self assessment, followed by a 24 hour on site visit by auditors, and then ongoing monitoring and feedback. A TOFTigers PUG certificate is then valid for the next three years.

Please note that completion of the audit does not necessarily mean you will gain certification. If this is the case your TOFTigers PUG Eco Audit Report will provide you with ways in which your operation can achieve the minimum ecological standards necessary to gain the certification, and you will remain a TOFTigers 'Under process' member, until suitable efforts have been made to ensure certification.
